

PLURALIS™

The Danish designer Kasper Salto has designed the Pluralis™ table series for Republic of Fritz Hansen™. Pluralis is a table that's open to possibilities. As its Latin name implies, Pluralis pertains to more than one. Meaning, more than one type of situation, setting, occasion or meeting. Designed for the contemporary work culture, Pluralis can adapt to any kind of communication exchange you have in mind.

KASPER SALTO 1967-

Kasper Salto was originally trained as a cabinet maker and later graduated in 1994 from the Danish Design School. In Kasper Salto's work the Danish tradition of furniture design is continued in a well-balanced combination with international industrial design and its new trends. Salto's main source of inspiration is nature and its way of colouring. Kasper Salto has received several design awards for his work.

DESCRIPTION

The simple design is refined in every detail with soft lines and pure beautiful details and joints. The series comprises of three sizes to be used as a working desk, a meeting table or a dinner table. It offers the possibility of having integrated cable management systems.

The table comes in five surface selections: Mauve brown linoleum, Lava grey and white laminate as well as oak and walnut veneer. The corners of the table top are rounded to give the table top a sophisticated finish.

The legs of the base are positioned and shaped in such a way that the user will always be met with a soft circle creating an invitation to come closer and use the table. The base is crafted in pressure die casted aluminium and the rails are extruded aluminium. It is available in a polished aluminium or powder coated in black IGP lacquer. The table is mounted with glides.

ENVIRONMENT & TESTS

All frame parts can be disassembled for recycling. Aluminium frames can be melted down and re-used. Table tops in veneer, linoleum and high-pressure laminate can be incinerated.

Pluralis™ will be tested according to EN 15372:2008 for strength, durability and stability.

WARRANTY
